

- Multi-instrumentalist, composer and song-writer.

- Following many years of international experience as a session musician (member of the Cheryl Pepsi Riley houseband at Village Underground in New York, among others) Buslav has decided to release his first solo album.

- As content matured within, it became the impetus for the Buslav music project. His organically creative style is a result of a conscious, honest and personal approach to music.

- The simplicity of form leads directly to the essence of the broached content. The not too sweet, not overly loquacious compositions lead to a truth, which Buslav believes, defends itself and is the most important factor in creativity.

- He asks questions which are worth asking. His lyrics allude to various life situations, emotions, problems and joys which each one of us meet and are conveyed in Buslav's unique way.

- Buslav is a project which engages the courage to go beyond personal limits. It's a story of emotions, human interest and experience, encompassed in sound.
